Briefly

Drug abuse talk

The Chemical Dependence Program at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville is sponsoring a parent education program on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 7 p.m. in the Family Lounge on the eighth floor of the hospital.

A lecture on "The Stages of Adolescent Chemical Dependence" will be presented. For additional information, persons may call St. Elizabeth's Chemical Dependence Program at 618-234-2121, extension 1555 or 1-800-800-9011. All calls are confidential.

Population Week set

Gov. Jim Edgar has proclaimed Oct. 20-26 as World Population Awareness Week in the state of Illinois.

Mastectomy meeting

The Mastectomy Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 28 in the Conference Room of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville.

Richard Avdoian, director of Comprehensive Medical Unit, will speak on "The Effects of Cancer on the Family Unit."

Mastectomy Club meetings are open to all who have had mastectomies, their families and other support people. Those who wish more information should call St. Elizabeth's Hospital at 234-2120, Ext. 1293.

Halloween safety

Illinois Power is distributing recyclable plastic "trick or treat" bags. The program, encouraging a safe and crime-free Halloween, is sponsored by IP and the National Crime Prevention Council.

Crime Prevention Council "spokesdog" McGruff appears on the bags with a message urging children to "take a bite out of crime" and "treat yourself to a safe Halloween."

Parents can pick up Halloween bags for their children and fill out an entry form for the drawing at their local Illinois Power office. Drawings will take place on Oct. 31.

Inside

The Warriors have taken a blue-collar approach on the football field. The results have been more than profitable. Granite City is 6-1 following its 23-7 win at SLUH on Friday. The Warriors had 305 yards rushing and 18 first downs, while keeping quarterback Steve Schur of the Junior Billikens and his explosive passing game on the sidelines, thanks to their ball control offense.

New districts
a 'hatchet job'By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles called it "a God-awful can of worms."

Granite City Alderman and Precinct Committeeman Jeff Worthen called it "one hell of a hatchet job."

State Rep. Sam Wolf said, "It is not a good situation."

If Granite Citizens are having a hard time figuring out which of the three state representative districts or two senatorial districts they live in under the legislative redistricting proposed by the Illinois Legislative Redistricting Commission, they are not alone.

"I haven't seen the boundaries actually plotted on a map," Wolf said, adding that the mapping had been done on a computer. "I doubt that (the Republicans) who drew it have actually sat down with a map and plotted the exact boundaries, either."

Wolf said, "It's not an intelligent guess" that Granite City was written off as spare parts to be cannibalized, census block by census block, in order to balance the populations of computer-drawn legislative districts based in Belleville, East St. Louis and Alton.

"But if you had set out to destroy representation for the area in the Legislature, you couldn't have done a better job," Wolf said.

The proposed 11th District, which includes incumbent House Majority Leader Jim McPike, D-Alton, includes eight of Granite City's 35 precincts and 84 other Granite City parcels of less than precinct size, according to the "Geography Report, Plan: Jourdan2" obtained by the

The proposed 11th also includes all of Chouteau Township and the northern part of Nameoki Township, including Precincts 1, 3, 9 and 11.

Illinois Power's customer service offices in Collinsville and Edwardsville will be closed next April when a consolidated service center opens in Maryville, the utility announced Friday.

The utility is negotiating with businesses in Collinsville and Edwardsville to accept bill payments on a walk-in basis.

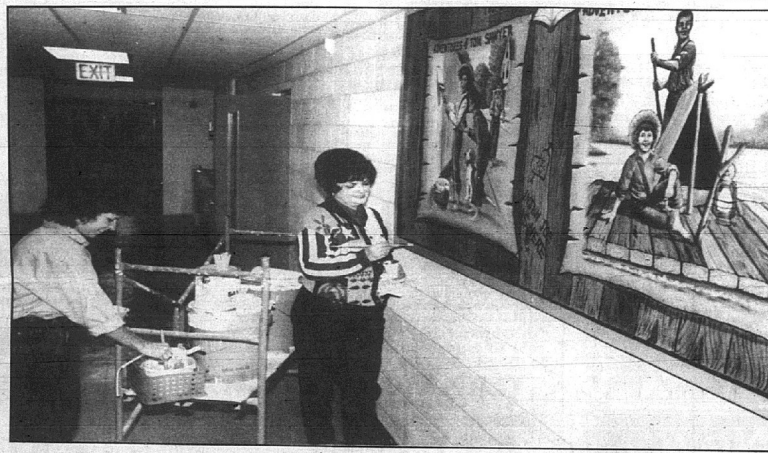

Illinois Power also announced that Bill Shreck, area manager in Collinsville, will retire next summer. He has been switched to manager of special projects and has been replaced as area manager by Terry Kohler.

Kohler has been area manager in Granite City. The Granite City customer service office will remain open, but the engineering staff now located there will be moved to the 7,000-square-foot addition in Maryville.

Illinois Power's operating department has been located in Maryville on Illinois 159.

No employees will lose their jobs because of the consolidation, the firm said. Three clerks and four meter readers will be transferred to Maryville from the Collinsville office and two clerks and two meter readers will be transferred from the Edwardsville office.

Facelift School gets a new lookBy Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Anyone who hasn't been in the Mitchell School gymnasium recently will be flabbergasted by improvements made there, Maryville, said Wednesday.

It's probably the most graphic illustration of what can be done to improve the environment of a school that already has marked its 50th anniversary, she said.

The formerly cavernous gym now has a dropped ceiling and the lighting is regarded as excellent.

Structural differences at the elementary school building are the result of a long-term renovation program undertaken by the district.

The colorful welcoming touches, the artwork and the warmth come from the imagination of two women — Myrna Davis and Peggy Brooks.

Coordinated Youth Services again will be the recipient of contributions collected through the annual Old Newsboys Day.

Headquartered in Granite City at 1254 Niedringhaus Ave., CVS is an agency serving young people in the Quad City area through a variety of programs.

Old Newsboys Day, sponsored by the Suburban Journals, will take place Thursday, Nov. 21, in Granite City, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Madison as well as in other communities throughout the Greater St. Louis region.

Old Newsboys Day has raised more than $4.7 million in the past 34 years. All money collected is distributed to children's

on lottery tax proposal

The first hurdle has been overcome in the city's attempt to derive revenue from the sale of state lottery tickets.

According to 1st Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish, Granite City's proposal to place a five-cent surtax on the sale of lottery tickets was well received by the Illinois Municipal League's Resolution and Legislation Committee. He said the committee voted unanimously to send the proposal to the IML Board of Directors.

If that body approves the measure, it will be sent to the Legislature, Skubish said.

He said he made a similar proposal 10 years ago; it was approved by the membership of the IML, but the IML staff never wrote the proposed legislation.

"I guess Gov. Thompson or someone in the Legislature got to the staff after the vote," Skubish said of the earlier attempt. "This time, I think they'll be more receptive."

Skubish said the five cents the state would rebate to municipalities would come from the money appropriated for prizes, rather than from an increase in the price of a ticket.

"They won't even miss it," Skubish said. "Other cities are receiving revenue from riverboat gambling that was unthinkable in the past. This isn't as far-fetched as it may seem."

He said the state has been mandating participation by municipalities in programs lately, without providing sufficient funding to implement those programs.

Lottery sales at outlets in the 62040 zip code totaled $14,843,487 in fiscal year 1991, according to Illinois Lottery figures.

Driver runs into sticky situation

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Friday did not get off to a good start for Nick Ryan.

Ryan, 44, of the 2500 block of Delmar Avenue ran into a sticky situation when his car drove through a river of tar on westbound Highway 40 at 5:35 a.m. Friday while on his way to work.

According to Ryan, he had just crossed the Poplar Street Bridge and was at the 20th Street exit in St. Louis when a tanker truck full of tar, from E.J. Motor Transport of East St. Louis, "just ruptured" directly in front of him.

"It was like driving through a black river," Ryan said. "I just started sliding. I didn't have any control at all. I'm lucky I didn't hit anything." was the first one through the mess, but I understand traffic was backed up a long time after that."

Ryan said he slid about a quarter-mile, all the way to the Jefferson Avenue exit, before gaining control of his vehicle. By that time, the windshield was covered with black ooze, and visibility out his windshield was limited.

"The windshield wipers are automatic, and come on whenever the glass gets dirty. They came on, and they stuck right in the middle," Ryan related.

Ryan pulled off the highway, regained his composure and returned to the scene. Black oil, about a quarter-inch thick, covered the front, hood, windshield and driver's side of his formerly white 1983 Chrysler New Yorker. The sticky substance was also caked on his car's tires.

Ryan said the driver of the truck was very apologetic and cooperative.

After informing his employer that he wouldn't be reporting to work Friday, Ryan drove back to Granite City.

"I practically had to hang my head out the window to see," he said.

The car sat in Ryan's front yard Friday afternoon, while he was waiting for an insurance adjuster to look at it.

"You should see the people drive by. They all slow down and look (at the car). I guess they think we're decorating for Halloween," Ryan said. With a day like he had Friday, Ryan can look forward to a less spooky Oct. 31.

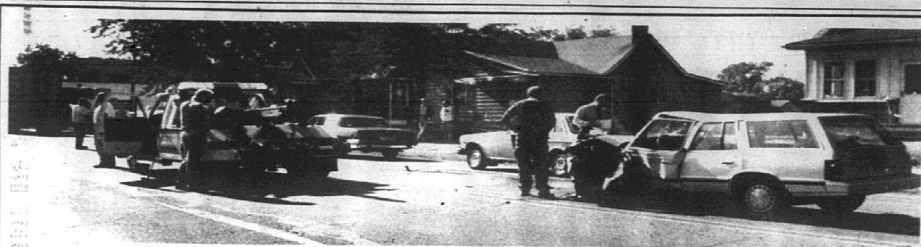

County parking
plan advancesBy Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

County parking plans progressed Wednesday when the Madison County Board approved the purchase of a third piece of property for additional surface parking.

The board approved the purchase of Edwardsville property at 222 N. Second St., next to property it already owns, for $125,000. Only Michael Semanisin, D-Maryville, voted against the measure.

Semanisin declined to comment on his reasons. The board approved the purchases of two other properties — 316 Clay St. and the back half of 223-225 Main St. — in August. Both transactions are now completed, according to Jim Monday, county director of administration.

The Main Street property actually faces North Second Street and will be used for handicapped parking adjacent to the county government center. (See PARKING, Page 14A)

Smash — The Plymouth Reliant at right used to be a station wagon, but was shortened considerably when it collided with a tractor-trailer truck, far left, on Edwardsville Road at 3 p.m. Wednesday. The driver of the car, Gerald D. Rainwater of the 1100 block of 27th Street, was taken to the hospital by ambulance, but declined treatment. A witness told police a third vehicle struck the car, causing it to hit the truck.

3 named assistant prosecutors

Three law clerks in the Madison County state's attorney's office have been appointed as assistant prosecutors.

Martin Carrow, 25, and Allan Napp, 24, both of Godfrey, and Colleen Cadigan, 24, of Collinsville will use their legal talents to prosecute in the areas of driving under the influence, child support, misdemeanors and domestic violence. The office now employs 31 people.

"I am pleased to find such talented and aggressive young attorneys to prosecute on behalf of the people of Illinois," State's Attorney William Haine said.

"We receive resumes from all over the United States and I am very satisfied with these appointments," he said.

"I expect that all three attorneys will serve with distinction as assistant state's attorneys for the people of Madison County," Carrow graduated from the Ohio Northern University College of Law in May 1990. He has been appointed to the child support unit and will assist in the misdemeanor and DUI enforcement divisions and with orders of protection and domestic violence cases.

Napp graduated from the St. Louis University School of Law in May. His duties will include DUI enforcement, summary suspension hearings, misdemeanor prosecutions and child support enforcement petitions.

Cadigan also graduated from the St. Louis University School of Law in May. She will be working in the child support unit and will assist in the misdemeanor and DUI enforcement divisions and with orders of protection and domestic violence cases.

"I find it especially satisfying that I was able to find such good talent locally," Haine said.

Anti-porn campaign planned

By Charles LaRobardier

Two area organizations will observe White Ribbon Week, a national campaign against pornography, with activities starting Oct. 27.

Capt. Nathan Johnson of the Salvation Army said his office has been actively participating in the campaign for some time.

"Last year, we distributed white ribbons and informational literature, and we'll do so again this year," he said. "We will be at 37th and West Main streets on Sunday, Oct. 27, to promote public awareness of the pornography problem."

Johnson said his office in Belleville will continue to work with other Salvation Army offices, as well as churches and other organizations. Last year, Belleville Mayor Richard Drauer issued a proclamation recognizing the week, and the Belleville Police and other groups also participated, he said.

One group that will be participating this year is the Belleville chapter of the American Family Association.

The group's publicity director, P. Michael Scannell, said the group has been active in the campaign.

"We will distribute white ribbons directly to local churches, and we ask that people display them on their front doors, mailboxes, cars and coat lapels," Scannell said.

White Ribbon Week was originated in Pennsylvania in 1987 by a Mrs. Norman Norris. A national group, Morality in Media, spearheaded a campaign to encourage others to join the effort against pornography.

Additional information on White Ribbon Week is available from Johnson at 277-9330 or Scannell at 233-2286.

Battery by man alleged

Thomas Allan Niesciur, 29, of the 3400 block of Lydia Lane was booked on charges of battery and disorderly conduct at 11:47 p.m. Oct. 11 following an incident at Terrace Lane and Garfield Avenue.

Sent to the area due to a report of a fight, officers talked with Stacy L. Johnson, 20, of the 3800 block of John Glenn Drive, who alleged she had been struck by Niesciur. She said he had left the scene in a dark color Chevrolet Corvete.

A witness reported seeing the suspect hit Johnson and asking him if there was a problem. Niesciur then allegedly made a third toward the witness and grabbed at him, wanting to start a fight. An officer located Niesciur and returned him to the scene.

Johnson alleged Niesciur threw her onto the street three times. The woman had a discoloration to the face, which also was swollen, police said.

Niesciur was taken to police headquarters, where he was charged and released after posting $154 bail, pending a hearing.

Wallet looted of $20

Charlene M. Cox of the 2700 block of Kirkpatrick Home reported at 4:50 p.m. Oct. 11 that someone entered her apartment and removed her wallet from the kitchen counter.

Granite City

She said a man she knows returned her wallet purse a short time later. He said he had been given the wallet by a small child, who said he had found it in a dumpster. Missing were $20 and some food stamps.

Driving warrant served

After halting a driver for an alleged traffic violation at 25th Street and Nameoki Road, an officer arrested the motorist, Roger D. Clements, 19, of the 2800 block of Lincoln Avenue, charging him with not having a valid driver's license and failing to use a turn signal.

Also booked was Roger D. Clements, 45, of the Lincoln Avenue address, a passenger in the vehicle, who was arrested on a warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol.

Arrested on warrants

Christopher William Morris, 20, of the 2500 block of Westmoreland Drive was arrested at 4:43 a.m. Oct. 12 by Pontoon Beach police on Granite City warrants alleging failure to appear on charges of speeding, being a minor in possession of alcohol, two stop sign violations and two charges of unlawful possession of alcohol.

Davis and Brooks next tackled Marvill Elementary School, where dinosaurs were the biggest thing around and the murals and artwork drew raves from the youngsters.

Mitchell School has an entirely different theme — Children's Literature — with books, especially the children's classics, and reading enjoyment playing a major role in the artistic decor.

The colorful murals reflect the importance of books, and books ability to give enjoyment while the reader learns about life and the world around. The murals are intended to create a positive attitude toward reading.

The artistic decorators installed 4-by-8-foot plywood sheets inside the school building, illustrating them with brilliant murals relating to children's classics ranging from "Charlotte's Web" to "Little House on the Prairie."

A total of 595 pupils currently attends Mitchell School in kindergarten through sixth-grade classes.

Davis is highly enthusiastic about the program and very impressed with her co-worker in the school project — Peggy Brooks.

Both women believe the Mitchell School project will create a positive attitude toward reading and the pupils appear to be responding to their efforts.

Mitchell School was built in 1935 and the main building has had several major renovations since that time until recently.

The gymnasium was constructed in 1954 and in 1962 several new classrooms were added.

"Some of the restrooms were replaced, ceilings were lowered and the restrooms were renovated and brightened."

"Some of the restrooms were dark and kind of frightening," one former student commented.

Many former students are expected to attend the open house and rededication ceremony at 1 p.m. today (Sunday) at Mitchell, where they probably will come away suitably impressed.

Davis and Brooks are not ending their artistic projects with Mitchell, although most of the work at that school is finished.

"We are hoping to continue with the program and do one school a year," Davis said.

Reading-to-children programs set

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

A special program to encourage parents, grandparents and others to read aloud to children will be the focus of two special programs Thursday, Oct. 24, at the Venice High School library. A film explaining the benefits of reading to children by parents and grandparents will be shown at both programs, scheduled from 9 to 11 a.m. and repeated from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday. Also included during the two hours will be discussions by faculty members.

Halloween safety tips offered

Officials of St. Elizabeth Medical Center have issued the following list of precautions to take to ensure that Halloween remains a fun — and safe — event.

- Make sure your child's costume is safe and flame resistant.
- Masks, hats and wigs can make it difficult to see when trick-or-treating. Make sure nothing restricts your child's vision. Makeup is better than a mask. Look for non-toxic kits.
- A costume that is light in color is easier for a motorist to see. Or you may want to use reflective tape on your child's costume for better visibility.
- High heels and oversized boots may cause a child to fall. Have your child wear shoes that are comfortable to walk in, such as tennis shoes.
- Beware of baggy costumes

Parents are asked to select the program time most convenient for them to attend. Educators and librarians say they are often asked by parents, "What can I do to help my child?"

A simple, economical and effective answer to that question can be found through this program, said Venice Superintendent of Schools John C. Rush.

Jim Trelease's "Reading Aloud" film is being sponsored locally by Venice Schools' Chapter I Reading Improvement Plan, the administrator said.

Trelease, the author of the million-copy best-seller, "The New Read-Aloud Handbook," shares the formula that the National Commission on Reading called the most effective method to create a reader — reading aloud to children.

One of the nation's most sought-after education speakers, Trelease presents in the film the same message he delivers in person 150 times a year in areas throughout North America.

Trelease is the father of two children and not only is an informative speaker, but an entertaining one, Rush said.

The plan for reading to children 15 minutes a day is said to dramatically change the life of a family.

The program draws interesting conclusions about the connection between family television viewing and children's reading scores, Rush said.

Trelease also has advice for dads who know their way to the athletic stadium, but can't seem to locate the library in town, the film sponsors said.

The "Reading Aloud" program also will be presented from 1 to 3 p.m. Thursday at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

County transit district honored as country's most innovative

Madison County Transit District officials are beaming over recognition for having the nation's most innovative public transit system.

Ridership on district buses has skyrocketed since expanded services began Aug. 26. "It has exploded," district director Jerry Kane said.

Kane said the award by the Public Transit Innovation Journal honors the district as the nation's most innovative public transit system. It cites the district's success in providing more extensive, more affordable, more accessible and more convenient bus service than had been provided by the regional Bi-State Development Agency.

Local service provided by Bi-State with full-size buses has been replaced and supplemented with lighter, smaller and more efficient vans and minibuses.

Kane said district officials thought ridership might increase from just under 30,000 per month to a little more than 40,000 with the most recent changes. Instead, September ridership was 62,000 and continues to climb, he said.

The district initiated two new routes, the Bethalto-Alton Shuttle and the Wood River-Hartford Shuttle, and expanded service on the existing Granite City-Alton and Alton-Edwardsville routes.

Routes were extended into areas never before served.

Free rides were offered for two weeks to acquaint riders with the new services, but ridership continued to climb after fares were resumed, Kane said.

"It's accessible and it's affordable," he said. Fares are 25 cents for most trips, and riders seem to like the smaller buses that drop them off at the door of a shopping center or other destination, Kane said.

He said the award would be presented Oct. 29 at a conference in Las Vegas.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer, also chairman of the transit district board, said the award was quite an honor for the county and transit district workers.

He said State's Attorney William Haine, the district's first chairman from 1981 to 1988, deserves much of the credit.

Haine said the credit belongs to Hagnauer, but described the district's present success as "a dream fulfilled."

Kane noted the average hourly cost of all bus service in the district has declined from $68 to $38 during the last five years.

The recent service expansion links River Bend communities with each other and with Edwardsville, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the Tri-Cities area. Additional services expected to begin in March will tie Troy, Collinsville and Maryville into a districtwide system.

In addition to fares, the district is supported by state aid, a quarter-cent sales tax, continues to contract with Bi-State for regional and express bus services.

Grant will help 39 county residents

A Madison County program that helps welfare recipients enter the work force has been funded for a second year by the state.

The Illinois Department of Public Aid announced Monday that the Madison County Employment and Training Department, an agency of county government, had been awarded an $80,143 grant.

The grant is expected to help 39 county residents who receive Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Participants must perform at least at the fourth-grade math level and seventh-grade reading level.

SIUE enrollment rises to 11,415

On-campus student enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall is the highest it has been since 1975.

This quarter's enrollment is 11,415. Last fall, on-campus enrollment was 11,220.

When off-campus enrollment is counted, the total is expected to be near 12,000.

Full-time equivalency is also up. This fall's full-time equivalency is 9,181, compared to 9,072 last year.

University officials said another encouraging sign is that the number of students staying in school continues to rise. At the undergraduate level, there are 8,406 continuing students enrolled in classes, compared to 8,226 last fall.

The same is true at the graduate level, with 1,088 students continuing in school this fall; last year at this time, there were 1,463.

Increases are most apparent among non-degree seeking students and undergraduates with undeclared majors, with modest enrollment increases in the Schools of Fine Arts and Communications and Engineering.

Females continue to outnumber males among the student population. This fall, 6,460 women are in school. Last fall, there were 6,303. The number of male students remained stable, with 4,955 in class this fall. Last fall, 4,947 were enrolled.

Homecoming set to start

Homecoming activities at Granite City High School will begin with a parade and bonfire Monday and culminate in a dance Saturday.

According to Student Council sponsor Steve Hamilton, the annual homecoming parade will feature clowns, antique cars, floats from various school organizations, and the award winning, Gator Bowl-bound Marching Warrior Band.

The parade will begin at the Magna Bank parking lot, 20th Street and Edison Avenue, at 6 p.m. Oct. 21.

The parade will proceed to Madison Avenue, follow Madison Avenue to 29th Street, turn left onto 29th to State Street, and follow State Street to the high school parking lot.

A bonfire and pep rally will be held near the football field immediately following the parade. The theme for the week is "Rest in Peace, Redbirds." The school is asking past homecoming queens and past graduating classes to consider participating in the parade.

The week will feature presentation of the homecoming play, "Charlie's Aunt," in the high school auditorium. Curtain time for the play is 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Career choice seminar here Wednesday

The Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College, 4930 Maryville Road, will host a free "Assessing Career Choice" seminar on Wednesday, Oct. 30, from 1 to 3 p.m.

The session will be held in Room 1-400. It is a part of a series of "Seminars for Success."

According to program coordinator Pat Lurtz, the workshop helps students explore career options and assess academic and career interests, aptitudes and values.

"This is an opportunity for students and members of the community who are undecided about careers to explore and identify their options," Lurtz said.

"We help them assess their skills and interests through evaluations and match them with possible occupational opportunities."

All of the workshops are open to the public.

Those planning to attend or seeking information should call the Center for Student Development at 931-0600 or toll-free in Illinois at 1-800-BAC-5131, extension 441.

Applications now being taken for energy assistance program

The Madison County Community Development Energy Assistance Office is now accepting applications for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) from elderly (age 60 or older) or disabled households and households that are disconnected from their utilities.

All other households will be allowed to apply after Nov. 1. Persons wishing to apply should contact the nearest Outreach Site in their area for an appointment.

Persons applying for home energy assistance must provide proof of income from all household members for the past 30 days, proof of most recent energy bill(s) and proof of social security number(s) for all household members age 16 or older.

The program is designed to assist low-income citizens by offsetting the rising cost of home energy. Applications for home energy assistance are processed on a first-come, first-served basis. Home energy assistance payments made to eligible households are approved on a one-time basis. Income guidelines for this program range from $607 gross income for a household of one to $2,057 for a household of eight.

Persons having general questions regarding the LIHEAP program may contact Madison County Community Development Energy Assistance at 692-6200, extension 5105 or the State of Illinois Energy Hotline at 1-800-252-8643.

Many mastectomies may be avoidable, physician says

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

October has been declared National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and as may be expected, cancer care providers are using the occasion to stress the importance of early detection.

But this year, Dr. Mary Conti of the Oncology Care Center in Swansea is stressing some other important information about breast cancer — that in many cases, women can avoid a mastectomy and keep their breast.

If a woman is found to have a small tumor — 2½ centimeters or less in diameter — she may be a candidate for an alternate procedure, called a lumpectomy, followed by radiation treatments. In a lumpectomy, the tumor and tissue around it is removed, rather than the entire breast.

And that, Conti said, can be much less traumatic psychologically than having a mastectomy.

According to Conti, the procedure originated in Europe 35 to 40 years ago, and has been available in the United States for the last decade. But in the Midwest, the procedure had been used infrequently until about two years ago.

For a woman with a small tumor, survival rates for the lumpectomy and radiation are virtually the same — both are over 90 percent, Conti said. And the cost of a lumpectomy and radiation therapy can be as much as five times less than that of a mastectomy and reconstructive surgery, she said.

Still, Conti said, many women are not made aware that they may be able to have a lumpectomy, rather than a mastectomy.

"I've got pathology reports right here of women who were candidates for the breast conservation procedures, but for one reason or another, chose not to do that," she said. "There may be women who don't know they can keep their breast, and have the same chances for survival."

While she is stressing the availability of the lumpectomy for many women who have breast cancer, Conti said women still should be very concerned with early detection. If a tumor is not discovered early, the chances are greater that a mastectomy will be the only option.

Experts recommend three steps for early detection:

— Schedule regular mammograms — An initial screening by age 40 (earlier if there is a strong history of breast cancer in your family), one every year or two to age 49, and every year after 50.

— Practice monthly breast self-examination — Your physician can show you the proper method.

— See a physician for regular breast examinations — At least every three years until age 30, then every year.

Breast cancer is still the most common form of cancer in American women; one out of nine will develop it in her lifetime.

In 1991, more than 175,000 new cases are projected, and 44,500 women will die of the disease.

Imperial dance lessons offered

"Dance the Imperial" lessons are under way at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Participants are learning to dance the disco "imperial push," the highly stylized contemporary version of East and West Coast swing.

Through a unique system of progressive learning, instructors will have students dancing from the first lesson.

The classes, lasting seven weeks, will offer a variety of steps and will focus on timing, technique and styling in order to provide fun and confidence on the dance floor.

Fees for YMCA members are $30 per couple, and $40 per couple for non-members.

Persons may call 876-7200 for more information.

Business seminar on phone use here Tuesday

The Small Business Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce in its continuing series of seminars will present "The Telephone: Your Connection to Increased Productivity and Profit," on Tuesday, Oct. 22, from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The program will be held at Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus, Room 400, and will feature Mary McCormick of Illinois Bell.

It will focus on creative ideas for increasing production and profit for both business owners and employees.

Ideas on profitable ways of using the telephone, improving customer relations, telephone sales ideas and using the telephone as a profit maker will be presented. Techniques for improving receptionist skills, screening calls and building a better relationship with customers will be discussed.

McCormick is the area manager of community relations with Illinois Bell. She is responsible for media and municipal relations for the majority of Southern Illinois, including the Metro East area, and is also responsible for coordination of employee involvement in communities served by Illinois Bell.

She began her career with Illinois Bell in 1965 and has held various positions in several departments within the company. She is chairman-elect of the River Bend United Way board and served as chairman of its 1988 campaign.

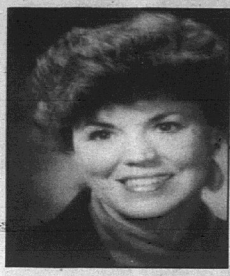

She chaired the Madison County Needs Assessment Project in 1989 and represented the United Way in the Madison County Substance Abuse Study. She serves on the boards of the Madison County Arts Council, Greater Alton Twin Rivers Growth Association, American Lung Association and Junior Achievement.

This will be the last seminar of 1991 for the Small Business Committee. Previous programs included "Marketing Your Business In Tough Times," "Controlling the Bottom Line," "Legal Aspects Affecting Small Business" and "Newspaper Advertising And You."

The next series of seminars will begin in January. Anyone interested in planning programs and being a part of the Small Business Committee is asked to call the chamber office at 876-6400.

The cost of the seminar is $2. Refreshments will be served. For more information, persons may call the chamber office.

Band boosters craft fair set

By Jim Haverstick
Staff writer

Wood carvers, tile painters, quilters and hundreds of other crafters from across the Midwest will soon be converging on O'Fallon for the 11th annual Band Boosters' arts and crafts fair at the high school.

More than 300 craft booths will be set up inside O'Fallon Township High School and possibly another 25 booths outside for the fair. The event will take place Nov. 2 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Nov. 3 and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The craft fair is being sponsored by the Band Boosters to raise money for the Marching Panther Band's trip to the 1992 Fiesta Bowl Parade in Tempe, Ariz. Jan. 1, said Carol Spengler, a longtime co-chairman of the event with her husband, Syd.

The Marching Panthers need to raise $10,000 to transport all 187 students and their equipment to Arizona, she said. The trip will cost about $570 per student.

The craft fair has proved a successful fund-raiser in past years, she said.

"We always have good attendance and a good time," Spengler said.

Police have estimated crowds of between 10,000 and 12,000 people attending the craft fair in past years, she said.

"McDonalds and Hardees tell us that it is their best weekend and we even serve food at the fair," she said.

Breakfast and lunch are served in the cafeteria during the fair.

The fair will be held in two gymnasiums at the high school at 600 S. Smiley St. in O'Fallon.

Her secret for success is hard work, good company affiliation, and especially the community's support.

Halloween party set in Venice

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Venice youngsters between the ages of 12 months and 12 years are being promised "a lively time full of treats and fun" at the city's Halloween party. The party will be held on Halloween evening, Thursday, Oct. 31.

Vanetta Adams, Halloween chairman, said the party will take place from 7 to 9 o'clock Halloween night at the Venice Senior Citizens Community Center, Brown and Klein streets.

Parents should accompany their children to the event, Adams said.

The youngsters are asked to wear Halloween costumes for parading and judging. Awards will be presented for costumes that are judged to be outstanding.

The community center will be decorated in appropriate seasonal trappings and there will be food, treats, games and prizes, Adams said.

"We want to thank all the Venice business people, organizations and city officials who joined together and donated funds so we could hold the Halloween night party," Adams said.

Information about the party has been sent to local schools and churches, Adams said.

"We hope to encourage parents to bring their children here instead of letting them go out walking up and down the streets," she said.

Youngsters in Venice may go trick-or-treating at residences in their immediate neighborhoods only between the hours of 6 and 9 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 31, Venice Police Chief James Bennett said.

House-to-house trick-or-treat visits also are restricted in Granite City and Madison to between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. on Halloween.

State presents Alton first casino revenues

Alton's dark fiscal cloud opened temporarily Tuesday to let in $118,000 worth of sunshine. The money represents the city's first receipts from riverboat gambling.

Jack Chamblin, a member of the Illinois Gaming Board, and Tom Hutchison, the board's fiscal officer, presented the check for September earnings to Mayor Ed Youniss Jr.

"It's the first of the $500,000 in the (city) budget," the mayor said.

The officials made a special trip to Alton to deliver the check, which includes $1 for every passenger and 5 percent of the gambling losses on the Alton Belle Riverboat Casino Sept. 10-30.

Meanwhile, gambling figures for the week of Oct. 7 released by the Gaming Board Tuesday showed an increase in the average loss per passenger over the previous week.

Last week, 14,372 passengers lost an average of $54 each, up from an average of $41 the week before.

Alton stands to gain $53,104

The money represents the city's first receipts from riverboat gambling.

from its 5 percent share of losses, the $1 per passenger head tax and the 20 cent per passenger surcharge.

The state will get $130,568 in revenues from last week's casino cruises, according to Doug Bybee, a tax accountant at the Gaming Board.

The Alton Riverboat Gambling Partnership took in $774,643 in gambling losses last week, bringing total gaming income to date to $2,995,794.

Since Sept. 10, when riverboat gambling started in Alton, 60,903 passengers have boarded the Belle, Bybee said.

Alton is expected to get its share of passenger and gaming taxes for October through December in January.

SIUE budget problems may force cutbacks in sports programs

Sports could be the next target in cutbacks because of Southern Illinois University's budget crunch.

SIUE President Earl Lazerson hinted before the SIUC board last week of the possible cuts in the sports program during a discussion about academics and student athletes.

At a press conference later, Lazerson and SIUC President John Guyon confirmed that athletics on both campuses could be on the chopping block because of the state's financial problems.

"We have to look at all programs in the institution. There can be no sacred cows in this situation," Lazerson said.

Lazerson has asked for all departments to submit a plan to cut costs. Some of the measures could include layoffs, cutting services, limiting enrollment and offering fewer classes.

While the university did see a budget increase from $102 million to $107 million, officials have said the increase will not keep up with inflation.

"If we are going to continue looking at making program cuts, in the central core of the institution — teaching and learning — we have to look at sports, also," Lazerson said.

Although nothing has been said about what or how much will be cut, Lazerson suggested one possible alternative is to scale down the program and offer fewer sports.

Students now compete in men's and women's basketball, cross country, track, soccer, men's baseball, golf and wrestling, and women's softball.

"We want to do what we do with quality. With a reduction in resources, we may have to offer fewer sports that are appropriately funded," Lazerson said.

Garden clubs' flower show draws 250

"It's a Wonderful World" standard flower show was presented by the members of District V Garden Clubs on Sept. 14. Gerry Thorp, staging chairman, and a large number of club members worked the previous day getting the area ready for exhibits in the atrium of Eden Village Retirement Center in Edwardsville.

The atrium proved to be an ideal place for a show with plenty of room and excellent lighting.

Virginia Kaufhold was flower show chairman and Rita Kinsella and Lillian Heberer were scheduled chairmen. Approximately 250 people attended the show.

The following is a list of winners in artistic designs:

Class 3, "The Sea": Lillian Heberer, blue plus the creativity award; Betty Wieland, red; Mary Muentnich, yellow; Dorothy Chamberlain, white.

Class 9, "Travel at Home & Abroad": Virginia Kaufhold, blue plus creativity award; Trish Haislar, red; Rita Kinsella, yellow; Mildred Lorenzen, white.

Class 10, "Memories": Ruth Buesch, blue; Ruth Ann Phillips, red; Bea Moeckel, yellow; Fern Christian, white.

Class 12, "Rural Life": Virginia Kaufhold, blue plus award of distinction; Betty Wieland, red; Bea Halford, yellow; Tina Chiu, white.

Class 14, "To Recycle": Rebecca Drake, blue; Lucille King, red; Gerry Thorp, yellow; Alison Sale, white.

In the horticulture division, the following winners were announced: Ethelyn Boyd, nine blue, five red, two yellow, plus arboreal award; Lillian Heberer, four blue, two red, one yellow; Maxine Mullins, two blue, one red; Mary Muentnich, four blue, one red, two yellow, one white; Virginia McKim, two blue, four red, two yellow; Virginia Kaufhold, two blue, four red; Mary Stunum, three blue, one white, plus award of merit; Bea Halford, two blue, one red, one yellow; LaVerne Stein, six blue, five red, two yellow, two white; Doris Hertenstein, two blue, two red, one yellow, two white; Clara Winter, three blue, three yellow, plus award of merit; Lucille King, one blue; Alison Sale, one blue, one red, one white; Barbara Taylor, two blue, plus award of merit; Alfred Knecht, two blue; Fern Christian, two red, two white; Pat Cereniano, three blue, one red, one yellow; Lucille Etheridge, one blue; Gerry Thorp, one red; Genevieve Smith, one red; Dorothy McMullen, one yellow, one white; John Mullins, one blue; Deloris Fuchs, two blue, one red, two yellow, two white; B. Lasee, one blue, one red; Mildred Rank, one blue, one red, one yellow; Joyce Wisecup, one blue, plus award of merit and horticulture excellence; Tina Chiu, one blue; Johnson, one yellow; J. Blus, one yellow.

In the Special Exhibits there were three educational exhibits, Recycling, Herbs and Ornitholgy. Shiloh Valley Garden Club received the Educational Award for their exhibit on herbs.

One of the sponsored groups for the youth group was on bird houses, with Kenneth Knecht receiving a blue ribbon for his birdhouse.

District V members displayed pot-of-flour arrangements with seven entries. A display of bonsai by members of the Bonsai Association of Greater St. Louis was a big attraction. Each club obtained an arrangement from their local florist for the commercial exhibits.

There was good participation in the youth groups with these winners in the artistic designs:

Class 2, "It's A Wonderful World of Sports": Lauren Schaefer, blue, plus Junior Achievement award; Erica Haislar, red; Emily Sanders, blue.

BPW hears tips on financing education

Speaker Janet Mills highlighted the September Granite City Business and Professional Women's program at Jerry's Cafeteria with a talk entitled "Financing on Education." A former educator, Mills now serves as a Chamber of Commerce Ambassador and is a self-employed insurance and investment counselor in the community.

As an example, Mills spoke of recent high school graduates whose search for scholarship monies reportedly netted her over $300,000 dollars and national publicity. Students should make "smart choices" by setting goals early, she said.

Mills listed the many sources available to students: community colleges for the first two years of general coursework; library reference resources listing grants and scholarships available in the private sector; counselor's offices containing the most recent financial aid scholarship possibilities and a hand-out "Where To Go to find information on College Financial Aid."

In her talk, Mills cautioned listeners to make "smart choices" about accepting certain forms of financial aid, such as student loans, which must be repaid since they are considered debts. Other debts such as home equity loans must be repaid but are tax-deductible.

"Always look for tax advantages to help save for college," she said.

educations," Mills advised. As an example she cited the Series EE Bonds which mature state and local tax-free.

The speaker discussed other means such as: shifting dollars to a child's name under the Uniform Gift to Child's Act; annuity percentages which could be used for education; life insurance contracts to borrow from tax-free; tuition-free schools; work/study programs; and tax-exempt mutual funds.

Although Mills stressed saving early for a child's education, she concluded that "many opportunities exist to help someone to achieve a college education."

Following the speech, members greeted honored guests Ginger Booker, Laura Chappell and Nancy Sanders-Miles — applauding their recent appointment as Outstanding Young Women of America.

In other business, BPW Local President Cathy Castillo announced organization activities: Sept. 21 Leslie Fay Fashion Show at Famous and Barr Galleria, whose proceeds go to GCBFW Foundation for scholarships; Kim Lanchon in Carbondale, Workforce 2000 Conference in Decatur Sept. 28; and reservations for the Fall District Meeting at Michael's in Highland Oct. 27.

D.W. Brown Realtor Cathy Holder was initiated in a membership ceremony conducted by Gloria Druhe, membership chair. Rosalie Stern presented SEMC Auxiliary President Helene Bischoff with a BPW Achievement in Adult Education Award.

Ways and Means Chair Eleanor Kelley announced four fundraisers currently in progress: Leslie Fay Style Show, Innsbruck Gift Wrap sales, Uncle Al's Pecan sales to begin in November, and the annual Harvest Luncheon and Style Show November 2 at Sunset Hills Country Club. Style Show tickets were distributed for members to sell prior to the event. Limited seating will again be enforced. The October Yard Sale at the D.W. Brown parking lot was postponed until Oct. 12 due to a conflict in scheduling.

SEMC anniversary celebration and United Way donations were approved. A Christmas Goose collection began for the Salvation Army annual donation. Annelen P. Smith presented the audit committee's findings showing that the books balanced but recommended new bookkeeping procedures to develop a chart of accounts based upon the current budget.

Legislative Chair Lil Marzul announced that State Legislative Chair Diana Pace will present a program at the Oct. 16 dinner meeting at Jerry's Cafeteria. Anyone wishing to attend may call 931-1112 for a reservation.

With the 50th anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor approaching, we would like to talk with people who were in Hawaii at that time.

Call 277-7000 and ask for Liz, or write to the Journal, Pearl Harbor Memories, 219 North Illinois, Belleville, Ill., 62222.

SEMC Auxiliary is honored

Fourteen $500 scholarships given this year by SEMC Auxiliary earned the organization a Granite City Business and Professional Women Achievement in Adult Education Award. Helene Bischoff, president of the hospital auxiliary, accepted the award at a BPW monthly meeting at Jerry's Cafeteria in August.

are high school graduates enrolled in a college and are awarded on the basis of grades and financial need.

Foundation Chair Rosalie Stern presented the certificate award noting that the Granite City Business and Professional Women helped found the SEMC Auxiliary now celebrating its fifth anniversary.

Anyone wishing to nominate an organization or business which contributes financial aid to its employees seeking further education may send the request in writing to R. Stern, 3703 Nameoki Rd., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Class of '46 marks 45 years

The Clarion Hotel in St. Louis was the scene of the 45-year class reunion attended by 75 members and guests of the Granite City High School class of June 1946.

This was the eighth reunion for the class, which has met every five years since graduation with the exception of the 15th year.

Co-chairman of the event were Glen Hollis and Charles Merzian. They were assisted by Dolores Gaines, Elsie Maylath, Shirley Lane, Cleola Siebert, Shirley Thompson, Charlie Vunovic, Virgil Waffler and Norbert Woods. Lora Hollis is also a committee member and most meetings were held at the Hollis residence.

Charles Merzian and Glen Hollis served as masters of ceremonies. As they called the members' names, members came forward to receive the book at the front of the room. As a surprise, a special feature was the distribution of "Remember When..." booklets, which contained questionnaires completed and returned by class members during the past 40 years, beginning with 1951. Each member received his or her own completed form in this booklet.

Surprise presentations were made to Don McCallister and Charlie Vunovic as appreciation gifts.

Glenna Udre, widow of one of the class deans, Peter Udre, had previously been selected as honorary class dean and gave an inspiring message to the audience, congratulating members on their desire to keep in touch with each other and the growing spirit of friendship evident at each reunion.

Class members attending the event were: Lorraine Anderson Kreitz, Wanda Bergschneider Hadley, Marceline Betrix, Elizabeth Bevirt Clendenin, Betty Bloodworth Parker, Charlie Burch Vunovic, Jean Colin Nunn, Ramona Crisel Burnett, Theresa Decker Lanahan, Marilyn Greene Kozyak, Wilburn Hancock, Jack Haus, Peggy Howey Ward, Mary Jane Huff Will, Marilyn Hughes Perry, John Kozar.

Also, Maud Kulenkamp Stethem, Ed Laub, Don McCallister, Elsie Maylath, Charles Merzian, Mildred Michaels Stoffer, Annabelle Moore Adams, Edna Moser Ward, Mary Ella Newton Rumley, Rita Niebur Loyet, Tom Pauly, Walt Pearson, Jean Roper Amos, Loretta Rudder Shipp, Alice Ann Ryan Newman, Dr. Lelan Stallings, James Stoffer, Darwin Thornton, Dolores Todd Gaines, Virgil Waffler, Shirley Ann Warning Thompson, Norbert Woods and Ruth Woodworth Vail.

Copies of the class reunion paper are available for $2 each and may be obtained by contacting Charlie (Burch) Vunovic at 451-4878.

Evangelists at Calvary Pentecostal

Evangelists the Rev. and Mrs. Danny Hudson of Tulsa, Okla., will be ministering in sermon and song at Calvary Pentecostal Assembly in Granite City, from Oct. 23 through 27.

Services begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening. The church is located at 4650 Maryville Road in Granite City.

Hudson has been in the ministry full time for 21 years. He has frequently spoken at conventions, youth camps and camp meetings. He has also worked on the mission field in Mexico, Haiti and Jamaica.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hudson will be sharing their music ministry each night. They have several albums to their credit. Also, Hudson is also an accomplished song writer.

Pastor Mark Maynard invites all to share in the Hudson's inspirational and challenging ministry. For more information or directions call the church office at 931-4106.

Scout provides play equipment for local Head Start program

Michael Halbrook of Holy Family Boy Scout Troop 103 completed his Eagle Scout service project requirement on Aug. 24 with the assistance of troop members and family.

Michael chose to help the Head Start Program in downtown Granite City, which was in need of an outdoor play area for its students. The Scout met with Head Start Supervisor Becky Wingerter to decide which Little Tikes outdoor play pieces would be most appropriate. Money was donated by employees of Granite City Steel, many area businesses and local civic organizations.

Michael purchased the equipment, which was then assembled, and pine mulch was spread to pad the new play area.

Those assisting in the project were fellow Boy Scouts and adults of Troop 103: Tom Cruise, Jim Dittman, Mark Dittman, Tim Dittman, Greg Edwards, John Haug, Matt Kelahan, Robert Lampitt and Jason Nesbit.

Family members who helped were: Ross and Judy Halbrook; Jerry Halbrook; Kerry, Becky, Kyle and Kelsey Johnson; and Woody, Rita and Sara Halbrook.

Pulmonary patients tour Belle

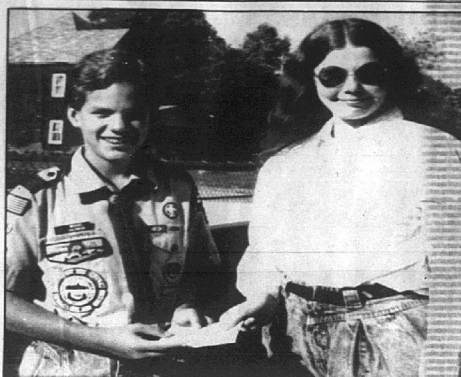

For many patients with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, getting out and socializing is difficult because they have so much trouble breathing and many must carry oxygen with them.

However, COPD did not stop more than 150 members of area support groups when they recently attended a special luncheon on the Belle of St. Louis, sponsored by Provide Medical Inc.

The group was comprised of patients from Christian Hospital Northeast, St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City and St. Luke's Hospital.

"Everyone seemed to really enjoy themselves," said Dan McDowell, director of Pulmonary Services at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

"This is the second year Provide has helped make this outing possible. I think that shows we are all concerned about the patients' well-being."

Michael Halbrook, Boy Scout Troop 103, presents Head Start Supervisor Becky Wingerter with a check of remaining funds after his Eagle Scout Service Project at Head Start.

Milka Soney

Milka D. "Mille" (Douceff) Soney, 75, of Granite City died at 3:30 a.m. Friday, Oct. 18, 1991, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. She had been ill for 10 months and a patient for one week.

Born in Granite City, she was a lifetime resident. She had retired from Concord Wright Machinery and Supply Co., St. Louis, where she worked as a customer service representative for 22 years, retiring in 1983. She was also a former employee of Walgreen's Drug Store.

She was a member of Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison and the Church of the Holy Spirit.

Survivors include two sisters, Catherine Ropac of Granite City and "Alice" Nizomoff of Newbury, Ind.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Dine and Georgia (Douceff) Douceff, and two brothers.

Visitation will be from 3 to 8 p.m. today (Sunday) at Davis Funeral Home, 2124 Home and Cleveland Boulevard, with a 6 p.m. prayer service. Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church, 13th Street and Grand Avenue, Madison, with the Rev. Peter Stamenov officiating. Entombment will be at Sunset Hill Memorial Estates near Edwardsville.

Memorials are suggested for the church.

Jack Pierson

Elvin "Jack" Pierson, 86, of Madison died Tuesday, Oct. 1, 1991, at the Greenville Garden Nursing Home.

Mr. Pierson was born June 3, 1905, in Keyesport, Ill. He worked for the former General Steel Castings Commonwealth plant in Granite City and also operated the Victory Amusement Co. in Madison.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Pierson of Madison; three brothers, John Pierson of Granite City, Calvin Pierson of St. Peters, Mo., and George Pierson of Keyesport; and one sister, Jessie Beedy of Keyesport, Calif.

He was preceded in death by his parents, two brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services were held Oct. 1 at Donnell-Wiegand Funeral Home in Greenville with the Rev. Robert Penton officiating. Burial was at McKendree Chapel Cemetery in Keyesport.

Agency

ained personnel who can promote and conduct programs and services to meet the ever-changing human service needs of youth, their families and others in need, said Donna T. Daisy, CYS executive director.

A key part of the agency's services is the Alternative/Optional Education Program that provides educational programming, counseling and social adjustment skills to junior high school and senior high school students experiencing difficulty in school.

The program presents basic academic instruction, drug/alcohol education, pre-employment skills, social work services, academic testing and evaluation, problem-solving skills and assertiveness training.

CYS also conducts the school attendance programs, including home visits, in the Granite City and Madison school districts; evening programs for special education students; and vocational career programs for students in the Alternative Education Program, plus other referred eligible students.

The Women, Infants and Children (WIC) Program, co-sponsored by the Illinois Department of Public Health and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is another vital service offered in the community by CYS.

Through WIC, nutrition education, supplemental food and health assessment are provided to low-income pregnant women, to infants and to children up to 5 years old.

In conjunction with the Illinois Department of Public Health and the United Way, AIDS education, counseling and testing, case management, emergency assistance and home health care services are provided to victims of AIDS through a special program of CYS.

Prevention programs such as Visions for the Future, Rescue III, Choices, and Healthy Lifestyles provide services to parents, teachers, youth and other community members.

All programs in the prevention series offer assistance in attaining the goals of drug-free com-

Hattie Cottrell

Hattie (Cuppitt) Cottrell, 67, of Granite City died at 4:55 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 19, 1991, at her home. She had been ill for 25 years.

Mrs. Cottrell was born July 6, 1924, in St. Louis. She was a housewife and member of Maryville Road Church of Nazareth.

Survivors include her husband, Delmer R. Cottrell, whom she married Nov. 5, 1952; three sons, Louis Cottrell, Frank Fisher and Richard Cottrell, all of Granite City; one daughter, Debbie Batson of Granite City; her mother, Lea Cuppitt of Granite City; two brothers, Elwood Cuppitt Jr. and Paul Cuppitt, both of Granite City; three sisters, Alma Stacey, Lucille Kimbro, both of Granite City and Lorraine Foster of Sun City, Ariz.; 12 grandchildren; and eight great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by a son, William Fisher, who died in 1967, and her father, Elwood Cuppitt.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by a Warner Chapel for Funerals, 797-1009.

Helen Merski

Helen (Kmic) Merski, 90, a resident of Edwardsville Care Center East for the past five years, formerly of Madison, died at 4:35 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 17, 1991, at Anderson Hospital in Maryville. Mrs. Merski had been ill for three weeks and a patient for five days.

Mrs. Merski was born in Poland and had resided in Madison for many years. She was employed by the Madison School District as a cook for 16 years prior to her retirement May 30, 1973.

She was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison, St. Polish's Ministry of Prayer, Polish National Alliance Lodge 1401, a lifetime member of Venice-Madison American Legion Auxiliary 307 and a charter member of Madison Barracks 34 of Veterans of World War I.

Survivors include three daughters, Sophie Lelenewski and Irene Baker, both of Madison, and Lorraine Niepert of Granite City; one brother, Edward J. Merski of Chicago; nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, George W. Merski; her parents, Joseph and Rosalia (Kornatowski) Kmic; three brothers, Joseph, Frank and Raymond Kmic; and two sisters, Rose Grzeszczyk and Zosia Kmic.

Visitation will be held from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. with a rosary at 7 p.m. today (Sunday) at Lab-ey/Sedlack Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave., Madison. Services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, 10th Street and Alton Avenue, Madison, with the Rev. Jim Keefner officiating. Burial will follow at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville. The family suggests memorials to St. Mary's Catholic Church or Masses.

Emmanuel and Lorenzo Nelson, both of Madison, John Nelson of Edwardsville and Nathaniel Nelson of St. Louis; and five sisters, Estella Gardner, Alversia Collier and Rosetta Nelson, all of Madison; Ernestine Terry of Chicago and Velma Donalds of Edwardsville.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Trinity Church of God in Christ, Madison, with Elder James Hunt officiating. Burial was at Sunset Gardens of Memory Cemetery, Hillside. Officer Funeral Home, East St. Louis, was in charge of arrangements.

Lester Hornbuckle, 86, of Woodstock, N.J., formerly of Granite City, died Monday morning, Oct. 14, 1991, at a retirement home in Woodstock.

Mr. Hornbuckle was born in Raynham, Ill. He resided in Granite City for many years and graduated from Granite City High School and the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana.

He was a retired chemist for Dupont Chemical Corp. in Woodstock, where he was employed more than 40 years.

Mr. Hornbuckle was preceded in death by his wife, Florence. Among the survivors are a daughter, Sue Fletcher of Woodstock; a son, Richard Hornbuckle of New Jersey; one sister, Madeline Shaw of Granite City; a brother, Kenneth Hornbuckle of the Chicago area; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday at the Woodstock Presbyterian Church. Burial was at a Woodstock cemetery.

Frank H. Earney, 80, of Granite City died at 4:30 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 19, 1991, at the Pleasant Rest Nursing Home in Collinsville.

township. The proposed 113th District, which includes Wolf, contains the remainder of Granite City—Community Heights, East Granite, the division of Sen. Park. It stretches south into St. Clair County to include the entire city of Belleville.

Wolf's neighborhood, formerly in the very center of his district, is now bounded on three sides by the "McPike" district.

People living in either the "Wolf" or "Younger" districts will be in a Senate district now represented by Sen. Ken Hall, D-East St. Louis, while those living in the "McPike" district will be in the "McPike" district of Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville.

And I've got to figure out where all of these people are supposed to be voting," Bowles said. "There could be three different representatives in the same precinct."

Worthen's precinct is in both the "Wolf" and "McPike" districts. He said the division "kind of puts an end to my political clout."

"Face it, clout is based on the kind of numbers you can put behind you," he said. "Who's going to listen to you if you're backed by a little bit here and a little bit there?"

Plotting the "Geography" of the redistricting commission on a map of census blocks, the rough boundary of the proposed "McPike" district in Granite City follows the western edge along the Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks along Missouri Avenue.

The boundary follows Johnson Road north to Pontoon Road, runs east on Pontoon back to Maryville Road and follows Maryville Road north to Pine Street, where it follows the city limit east. The "jog" from Maryville to Johnson contains Ward.

The "McPike" district also includes most of Pontoon Beach north of Pontoon Road and most of the 22nd Street crossing, the boundary runs at an angle to 23rd Street and runs southeast along 23rd Street to Washington Avenue.

Chouteau seniors travel through Southeast Missouri

By Maxine Duniphan
Correspondent

The Chouteau Township Senior Citizens took a day trip near the end of September that included the towns of Burfordville, Jackson and Sikeston, Mo.

At Burfordville, the group toured the Old Bollinger Mill, a grist mill where grain is still ground into flour and meal for the benefit of the tourist. The mill is powered, as it has always been, by water currents from the Whitewater River. Much interest was shown in the man-made waterfall and in the covered bridge that crosses the river just above the waterfall. The bridge is one of the four remaining covered bridges in the state of Missouri. The bridge and the mill are registered State Historic Sites on the National Register.

Following the tour of the mill site, the group traveled to Jackson's Old Train Depot, where they boarded the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Steam Train, along with a group from Collinsville, for a train ride to Gordonville, Mo.

En route from Jacksonville to Gordonville, the train was stopped by a pair of make-believe robbers who came out of a cornfield near the train tracks. The make-believe robbers were dressed in long ago western garb, riding horses and shooting. One had a pistol and the other a shotgun. Upon leaving the train, the make-believe robbers headed south carrying one of the ladies from the train.

At the southern-most point of the train trip, the fake robbers and the train passengers met at Gordonville Park for a friendly visit.

The passengers were introduced to the horses, Shooter and Mouse Trap. Two of the lady passengers were brave enough to mount Mouse Trap (with some help from the hold-up men) to have their picture taken.

After spending some time with the fake robbers and their horses, the group took pleasure in seeing the engineer blow the steam whistle and a signal look at the cow catcher on the front of the train, which has gone the way of the one-horse breaking plow. (It is just no longer needed.)

From Gordonville the group returned to Jacksonville, where they loaded into the 15-passenger van and headed south to Sikeston, and the "home of the thrown roll," Lambert's Cafe.

The food at Lambert's is such that it takes you down memory lane to the days when mama cooked these foods on her wood-burning range. Needless to say, these seniors enjoyed every moment spent there, even the young lady at the piano who played tune after tune from the 20s and 30s, as well as the on-the-spot requests.

The group enjoyed a few other points of interest en route to their destinations. They heard a few lively railroad stories from the van driver, Dave Ferguson, as he recounted some of his experiences in the areas along Illinois 159 as he had worked in the area as a railroad brakeman and as a conductor for the GM and O Railroad.

In Red Bud, the driver left Illinois 159 and took Illinois 3 to the Chester Bridge Spur. At Chester the group stopped at Segar Park at the Illinois end of the bridge. There they toured the park and took pictures of the bridge, the Pop Eye statue and a few park scenes. Two of the seniors, Ferd and Sally Segar, who share the same surname as the famous Pop Eye cartoon creator, E.C. Segar, posed for a picture beside the Pop Eye statue.

The group continued their trip across the bridge and picked up Highway 51 in Missouri, which took them into Perryville, where they stopped for a lunch break at Hardy's. Before getting back on the road again, several of the group toured the beautifully landscaped churchyard of a huge Lutheran church that sits high on a hill behind the restaurant with its resounding chime-bells that echo their beautiful music across the city each day at noon. The travelers left Perryville via Interstate 55 en route to Sikeston and points in between.

Pontoon Baptist Church preparing for revival Oct. 27

Lucille Martin covers the Pontoon Beach scene for the Press-Record-Journal. She can be contacted at 331-0721.

A pizza party was held for the Young Adult Class of the Pontoon Baptist Church recently at the home of Ben and Lila Frost. Those attending were: Jill Chaney; Tammy Schenke and daughter, Ashlee; Joann and Megan Depp; Leslie Chaney; pastor Ed and Lyn Hart; Roger and Kim Wilson and children Hannah and Adam; and Mr. and Mrs. Frost.

Don and Linda Boswell have returned from Warren, Mo., where they attended a wedding. The bride was Mary Hoelscher, daughter of George and Phyllis Hoelscher.

The groom, Troy Renshaw, is the son of Sharon and Marvin Teppie and Melody and Charles Renshaw.

The wedding took place in the St. John's Lutheran Church. The maid of honor was Michelle Ruether. Bridesmaids were: Kristen Duncan, fiancée of the bride's brother, Mike; Beth Godwin; Nora Denninger; and Sheri Jay.

The flower girl was Jamie Muckelvan, a niece of the groom. Cody Crell, nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer.

Lucille Martin

The best man was Charles Alverado. Groomsmen were: Mark Renshaw, brother of the groom; John Van Daele; and Scott Collins.

A reception was held at the Lions Club in Wright City, Mo. After a surprise cruise, the couple will make their home in Jefferson, Mo.

The Pontoon Baptist Church on Pontoon Road is preparing for a revival, which will begin Oct. 27 at the church.

The evangelist will be Dr. Mike Brown. He is from First Baptist Church in Wentworth, Ga.

On Sunday morning, Oct. 28, the church will observe high attendance day in Sunday School.

On that day, the Rev. Bob Broadway from Nashville, and his wife, Pat, will present a special service. The service will include music and scriptures.

Birthday of 4 daughters prompts mother's visit

Maxine Green covers the Granite City and Nameoki Township area for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 931-6256.

Rachel Keller of Patterson, Mo., was spending the week visiting friends and relatives in this area.

Four of her daughters celebrated their birthdays, an annual party, at Ravelli's.

Keller's daughters are: Lorene Fox of Piedmont, Mo.; Doris Fox of Patterson, Mo.; Thelma Faulkner and son, Terry, of Edwardsville, and Virginia Trebing of Madison.

Others attending the party were Barbara Mersinger and daughter, April, Glowacki; Lucille Martin and Maxine Green of Granite City; and Chloe Furber of Madison.

Gifts and prizes were exchanged.

Myra Grote and Leola Kasebert celebrated their birthdays Wednesday at a breakfast at Shoney's. Employees sang "Happy Birthday" and presented each with a birthday cake. Others joining in the celebration were Louise Acocks, Frances Feldman, Vera Kirkpatrick and Marie Benson.

George and Gerri Taylor had as a guest for several days Gerri's sister, Laura Belle Parnley of Detroit. Parnley also visited their stepfather, Bill Noel in Paducah, Ky., and other relatives in Cape Girardeau, Mo., before returning home for a big 75th birthday surprise party.

On Oct. 26, there will be a Sunday School Rally for all ages of the entire Madison County Baptist Association at the

Maxine Green

Emmanuel Baptist Church on Pontoon Road. Everyone is encouraged to attend and hear "Mr. Sunday School" Leon Kilbreth.

A Construction Ministry Workshop will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday at the New Baden Baptist Church on Illinois 160, just north of Illinois 161. There, first-hand information will be shared by men currently in the ministry and a video presentation will be made. Construction ministry teams will be formed. Those interested may call Clinton Stinebrook, Metro-East Men's Director, at 476-3324.

The Madison County Baptist Association group, Saints Alive, met Oct. 7 at the Grace Baptist Church on Edwards Street.

President Bob Lewis welcomed members and a guest.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to those having birthdays in October, and "Happy Anniversary" was sung to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Knight.

Vera Ridgeway sang the theme song "I Am So Happy."

Myra Grote led the prayer for the sick and other prayer requests.

The secretary report was given and approved.

Dr. Elwyn Wilkinson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, announced a trip to Fere Marquette state park to see the fall colors and eat at the Finn Inn. He also brought the birthday cake and ice cream.

Officers elected were: Dr. Elwyn Wilkinson, coordinator; Bob Lewis, president; Myra Grote, vice president; Vera Kirkpatrick, secretary; Vera Ridgeway, song leader; and Louise Acocks, pianist.

Ventriloquist Charlie Johnson from State Park Baptist Church delivered a message in talk and song, "Thank You for Giving to the Lord."

The Rev. Carl Watkins, director of Missions of Madison County, gave a devotional on "Being Salt of the Earth." Wilkinson blessed the food. Ruth Browning, Dorothy Miller and Mary McGinnis from Grace Baptist Church served a potluck dinner to Martha Taylor, Jim Ridgeway, Gertrude Sullivan, Wilma Ferrell, Mary Hoover, Irma Harritt, Glen and Phyllis Knight, Peggy Earhart, Pauline Harp, Delores Hillis, Ruth Reprecht, and Ron and Mary Alice Weiss.

The Magna Senior Club plans to take a motorcoach to the quaint town of Kimmiswick, Mo., on Oct. 23 to browse and shop. There, they will board the river boat for a box lunch and cruise back to St. Louis, where the coach will pick them up for the return trip home. Those interested should call Mettie Pope, 451-5500, to see if any reservations are left.

It has been reported that the 20th Annual Avon Collectors' Show and Sell Show was well-attended both Saturday and Sunday. The raffle drawings were won by Floyd Decker, first prize of $100; Edna Barnes, second prize of $50; and Rhonda Huges, Cecil Smith and Faye Booker won third, fourth and fifth prizes of Avon collectables. There were also hourly drawings. The Banquet on Saturday evening was also well-attended and each guest received gifts and prizes from the Avon Collectors Club.

The Granite City High School Marching Warrior Band competed in the "Echoes Off the River" Marching Band Competition held Oct. 12 at the Alton Midwest School.

In the Double A competition, the band took first place in drum major, third place in band, and won best general effect in all classes among seven others. There were 80 musicians and 46 auxiliary taking part under the direction of Dennis Meyer and his assistant, Norbert Tate, and staff member Diane Peach. Drum majors were Joann Buxton, Brian Welser and Scott Schur.

The auxiliary captains were Angi Jacobs, Vicki Justice, Ann Hewlett, Sharon Kozjak, Lisa Fernandez, Becky San Soucie, Mary Williams and Beth Noe. Musical selections were "Fanfare from E.T.," "Jetsons," "Human Nature," "House of the Rising Sun," "Birdland," "Dancing Men," "New York" and a finale.

World Community Day to discuss justice

World Community Day will be held Nov. 1 at St. Mary's Catholic Church, 1621 Tenth St., Madison, starting with registration at 12:30 p.m. and the service of worship at 1 p.m.

World Community Day is sponsored by Church Women United, which brings Protestant, Orthodox, Roman Catholic and other Christian women together as an ecumenical community to share mutual concerns about justice issues from a global perspective. This year's World Community Day will commemorate the jubilee anniversary with CWU's 50-year history of crossing boundaries of race, age, class and culture in search of peace with justice. Everyone is invited to attend.

The 1991 World Community Day worship experience, designed and written by a diverse group of women theologians, links CWU's jubilee with the biblical concept of jubilee as a time for reordering of society and restoration of God's justice to the earth.

World Community Day '91 precedes by less than a week CWU's Jubilee Assembly to be held at the Cervantes Convention Center in St. Louis from Nov. 8 to 11. Its theme will be "Set free. Be free. Jubilee!"

Warriors grind out a 23-7 win at SLUH to go 6-1

By Greg Severin
Correspondent

The Granite City Warriors are a blue-collar team playing in a blue-collar town.

When the Warriors step on to the football field, they slap on the Old Spice, strap on their hard hats, punch the time clock and go to work.

GC football

Friday night at St. Louis University High School, the Warriors gave SLUH a large dose of their work ethic in a 23-7 victory.

The win improved Granite City to 6-1. Previously undefeated SLUH fell to 6-1.

Granite City coach Tom Wyrostek likes his team's blue-collar reputation.

"Look at these guys," said Wyrostek, pointing to his offensive linemen gathered around him afterward. "We're definitely blue-collar. They're not the biggest kids in the world, but they're tough and they work."

In a grinding, relentless way, Granite City, behind its lunch-pail bunch of an offensive line, rolled up 305 yards rushing and 18 first downs against an over-matched SLUH defense.

"We got it started up," said Granite City offensive lineman Eric Mendenhall. "We knew we could drive the ball up the middle. We're hard-nosed and put it right on the line."

The Warriors rarely ran outside the tackles from their full-house backfield of Damon Yates, Mike Vaughn and blocking-back Larry Curry.

Yates rushed for 170 yards on 27 carries and scored on touchdown runs of 3 and 35 yards. Vaughn also had a touchdown and rushed for 81 yards on 18 carries.

And Curry? He blocked and blocked and blocked some more. The burly 240-pound fullback carried only twice in the game, but he helped open some big holes for Yates and Vaughn.

"They just sent their big fullback at us and flat took it to us," said SLUH coach Gary Kornfeld. "We never stopped them the entire game. We just couldn't get it stopped."

"Look at these guys.

We're definitely blue-collar. They're not the biggest kids in the world, but they're tough and they work."

— Tom Wyrostek
Granite City coach

And because of Granite City's ball-control offense, the Warriors stopped dangerous SLUH quarterback Steve Schnur.

Schnur had his moments, completing seven passes for 102 yards and one touchdown, but the senior found himself watching Granite City's offense from the sidelines most of the game. Watching with Schnur on the Quarterback Drake Marshall and his running mates had plenty of room to operate behind their hardworking offensive line. The Junior Bills' bench was receiver Jason Dulick, another big threat. "We didn't want the ball in their hands," said Wyrostek. "The kids did a tremendous job. They kept grinding it out."

Granite City jumped out to a 10-0 lead in the first half on a Vaughn 1-yard touchdown run and a 27-yard field goal by Billy Van Buskirk.

SLUH cut the Warriors' lead to 10-7 on a 25-yard pass from Schnur to Dulick with 3:03 left in the first half. It's also a little bit of nerves and that's the second quarter. But Granite City continued to pick up gobs of yardage on the ground in the second half, picking up two more touchdowns in the process.

Two long Granite City drives culminated in two touchdowns runs by Yates in the third quarter. Yates second touchdown from 35 yards out with 45 seconds left in the third quarter typified Granite City's work ethic.

On the run, Yates kept his legs churning when he was seemingly stopped by a host of SLUH defenders, then broke free for the score.

SLUH had a chance to get back into the game early in the fourth quarter, but the Junior Bills' drive was stopped by an interception by Yates in the Warriors' end zone.

On the play, Yates wrestled the ball away from Dulick. "Yates did a super job," said Wyrostek.

Netters win third straight over Collinsville

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

There isn't such a thing as a designated server in volleyball. But after her performance Thursday night, warrior junior Staci Johnson might be the next best thing.

Volleyball

Johnson entered the third game with Granite City trailing 10-7 and she served seven straight points to put the momentum, and the match in the Warriors' favor.

Granite City won its third consecutive game and completed a season sweep of Collinsville with a 7-15, 15-6, 15-13 victory.

"Staci served well in the junior varsity match and they (the Kahoks) had problems passing her serves," Granite City coach Cindy Gagich said. "She changed the momentum of the game."

The victory raised Granite City's record to 6-12. The six wins equal the combined win total of the last two seasons. "I'm pleased with that fact, and I'm happy with the way we've played this week," Gagich said. "The girls are starting to play more as a team. They're showing much more determination. It's important for the girls to go into the regionals on a high note."

The Kahoks got out to a 6-1 lead in the opening game. Granite City got as close as 9-7 before dropping the last six points. Lori Hoppes had six of her eight service points of the night in the opening set. JoAnn Gray broke open a 4-3 second game with six straight points, including three aces. The Warriors blew three matchpoints before Karen Sykes chalked up the last point.

Granite City looked to put a quick end to the match when they built a 6-1 lead behind the serving of Gray, Sykes and Amy Krakowicki.

Then the Warriors nearly let the game slip away. After a timeout, Marlene Buxton picked up the next nine points for the Kahoks, most of which were the direct results of Warrior miscues. Granite City missed on three spikes, were whistled for being in the net and let a free ball drop in for a point during the sequence.

We gave them eight of the nine points," Gagich said. "We ended to get ahead and get a little overconfident. That's been a con-

Wind presents challenge to hunters, fishermen

Last weekend's weather was beautiful for most people — sunny, warm and colorful without being hot.

But for the hunter and fisherman there was a flaw — wind.

Bill Seibel

The breeze was downright strong at times, which made holding a boat on a lake a challenge, casting a fly rod sometimes thrilling and being in the woods noisy.

Many outdoorsmen have opted for the woods at this time of year, seeking deer or turkeys with a bow and arrow, turkeys with a shotgun or squirrels with a rifle, shotgun or pistol. But wildlife and wind don't mix well.

This isn't to say that the wildlife isn't there or can't be hunted successfully, because it obviously can. Wild critters live in the woods and fields no matter what the weather. They feed, drink, move about and rest.

But wind robs most wild animals of two of their best defenses—their senses of smell and hearing. As a result, wild animals tend to be skittish and to drastically alter their regular habits.

Wind also robs the hunter of two of his best tools—his senses of sight and sound. I usually hear a deer, turkey or squirrel long before I see it. This is especially true in the fall, when the leaves are fresh upon the ground.

Unfortunately, the leaves are now in the process of getting from the trees to the ground. The sounds of wind in the trees coupled with the racket of leaves and nuts hitting the ground is almost deafening. It certainly covers up the sounds of squirrels, deer and turkeys moving about.

In addition, when the wind blows through leafy cover, everything is moving. That makes it very difficult to spot the movement of a critter through the cover, much less the more subtle movements like of the flick of an ear or tail.

I tried to sit in a tree stand last weekend, but like the animals, when the wind blows, I get restless and skittish. Unfortunately, unlike the animals, I don't have the self-discipline and control to sit tight. As a result, I get down and move about.

I blundered into two gobblers on Saturday morning. We'd chatted a bit with the calls on and off for about two hours. But they wouldn't come to me and I finally went to them in such a way that they saw me first. Wind does not bother the strong flight of a big tom turkey one bit.

On Saturday afternoon I opted for a fly rod on the gorgeous stream of the Rainbow Trout and Game Ranch at Rockbridge, Mo. Other than wrapping line around me a few times in the wind, once trying valiantly to implant the dainty hook of a small Woolly Worm in my left ear, that was enjoyable.

Sunday morning found us back in the windy woods, again without much success. Gail had fun just wandering about looking at the changing flora and fauna.

Our son, Bill, tried squirrel hunting, but saw only two. He bagged one of those, but observed that the bushy tails just weren't moving much in the wind.

That squirrels were present in numbers was clear by the amount of cuttings of hickory nuts and acorns scattered across the forest floor.

I blundered into three white-tails, a nice-size doe and her fawns of last spring. There could have been a fourth deer with them, but I couldn't be sure. Unfortunately, they caught my movement as I tried to slip along the base of a high ridge. They were barked on the shady southern slope, out of the wind.

Hunting with a bow or a shotgun is tough in the wind, because the animals don't move much. But they will move, if you can sit still long enough to give them the opportunity.

I should have climbed into a sturdy tree stand and stayed put. One of the stands I considered would have produced. As Bill hunted for squirrels through that area, he spotted a doe and spike buck together. They walked almost directly under that stand.

Wind is tough. Hunters must be tougher. Well, sometimes anyway.

TV's power dramatic in Thomas hearings

If anyone needed reminding, the confirmation hearings on the nomination of Clarence Thomas to the Supreme Court only underlined the enormous power of television in our lives.

As America stared entranced into the raw emotions of this particular process—Thomas, righteous anger apparently barely controlled beneath the outraged visage; and accuser Anita Hill, contained and apparently believable as she described indignities—you could almost feel the nation quiver with the drama.

Never mind that C-Span droned on interminably with the doings of government most of the time with a minuscule of audience. This was sex and, almost, violence. The program drew larger audiences than League Championship Series baseball, larger than other programming.

Never mind the outcome of the process. Think about the power of the medium to focus attention on an issue, in this case sexual harassment. Whatever else happens, after watching this testimony—this high drama—most of us will be a lot more sensitive to the issue.

If we could find ways to add sex to, say, the environment, maybe we could all learn a lot of things we need to know. Real debates, about real issues, with the kind of fervor and intensity needed to focus our attention.

Unfortunately, in the real world, the emotion will be saved for the "Dynasty" reunion, and we'll get stuck with 30-second sound bites on which to make decisions about our future.

Radio feedback
Steve Jankowski, program director of KEZK-FM (102) and KEZK-AM (590), was not happy with last week's column on radio ratings.

You may recall that we noted that FM 102 had taken a nasty beating in the two most recent Arbitron ratings books (Spring & Summer, '90), falling from second overall in the market with an "easy listening" format to ninth overall with an "adult contemporary" format.

Jankowski noted that in saying KEZK had abandoned the "easy listening" format—and the much older audience it attracts—we had neglected to point out that KEZK-AM continues to play the mostly instrumental "elevator music." Interestingly, the audience has obviously not found the AM station which has fallen to the bottom of the local ratings.

So, there's a mystery. Where's the audience that used to listen to "easy listening" on KEZK? If you used to be a part of that audience, let me know what you're listening to now by dropping me a card or note at St. Louis News Service, Suite 100, 1215 Fern Ridge Parkway, St. Louis, Mo. 63141.

One other point: I suggested there are too many stations looking for the same audience (ages 25-54) for all of them to thrive. Jankowski said he is looking for "a 40-year-old woman named Judy" for his advertisers, and he said that KEZK's ratings in women, ages 35-44, was up 31 percent over last summer when he played elevator music. Right. And they're also down 16 percent from this spring.

Jankowski said the adult contemporary format has 11 different variations, suggesting, I guess, there is room for everyone.

There are, by my count, four stations programming AC—KEZK (Judy are you out there?), The Fox (FM 101 & 105), KJFY-FM (96) and KYKY-FM (98).
